

Hoosier Tips and Tricks!

In need of some engagement tips for online learning? Here are a few to get you thinking.

Looking for ways to incorporate more student-centered tasks into your lesson? Try one of these techniques during your BBC session! If you would like further ideas on how to use these virtually, let me know!

Can I create an 'in-class' feel to my online class? What are some ideas on creating successful online discussions? Find some ideas here!

Looking for assessment ideas? Check this out! Great breakdown on assessments and how to use them. Reach out to me if I can help you further design your assessments!

Click here for a Bloom's Digital Taxonomy chart. This chart is about using technology and digital tools to facilitate learning and can help further guide you in writing strong objectives for your lessons.

Shout outs!

4th Grade Team: Thanks for a great year!!! -Lisa Schneider

Heather has been a phenomenal mentor. She has been patient with me, when I've asked her a million and one questions over the course of the year. Heather is very resourceful and she's very knowledgeable about most things involving Hoosier Academy. Most of all, she is professional and pleasant to work with! :-)
And she STILL answers my many questions without hesitation.

-Sholanda Seltz

Thanks for a great year! I think we have all survived the year with each other's help. All of the AIM "hallways" have surely helped throughout the year. I am anxious to see what our future holds and hope to see all of you with me along the way! Enjoy your summer!

-Angie Baker

I'm so proud of my team and the work we have accomplished this year. Working so well as a trio we have completed a successful year with 75% of our students on benchmark which we started with 37% benchmark at the beginning of the year. Proud of you ladies and well done! I can only hope we will be together again next year!

-Angie Baker

Ann Semon, for general awesomeness and a desire to instigate change for the better at Hoosier.

-Jill Landers

To the 4th grade virtual team! What a year it's been and we have been more efficient than ever! They are always so willing to work together, listen to ideas, and adapt! How lucky am I?! Looking forward to next year with an amazing team!

-Aimee Campbell

